Community Vision, Market Understanding, Quantitative and Qualitative Outcomes

To Understand and Connect the River District to the Main Street District

Seek networking, partnerships and volunteer opportunities by soliciting residents, business and property owners and organizations for participation in activities, attendance and hosting at Coffee Breaks, special events, planning session, etc.	Develop marketing plan based on target audience, media outlets and budget for advertising. Develop unique brand identity for the District that compliments Broad Street District. Produce a special event in the River District that markets area and highlights Master Plan concepts.	Assess improvement needs in order to develop a comprehensive list of planned improvements to public spaces and amenities. Conduct visual assessment of buildings, creating a digital database of the existing conditions of all structures. Consider the installation of transitional/connecting public art. Identify three possible ways to better integrate river front area as a tourism draw or amenity for the district.	Extend Business Awareness Visits to River District. Develop parking inventory and study needs of area. Inventory should be both visual as well as data driven. Perform parking SWOT analysis. Research parking needs in preparing for additional development.	For committee members to be leading advocates and resources for both private and public investment in the district. This requires that each individual be informed and connected to the extent that their personal and professional networks allow. While maintaining confidentiality when required, members will inform the committee at large about current, future, and potential projects so as to remain faithful to the established vision for Downtown Rome.
